Moscow State University of Economics, Statistics and Informatics (MESI) invites you to the Russian Language Summer School that is a perfect opportunity not only to learn Russian but also to be integrated into a Russian speaking community and to enjoy one of the largest cities of the world.

MESI
MOSCOW STATE UNIVERSITY FOR ECONOMICS,
STATISTICS AND INFORMATICS

We offer a 3-week programme both for those who would like to start learning Russian and for those who wish to improve their skills. Classes are held in international groups of 7-10 students based on the Russian language competences.

Upon successful completion of the programme you will get the Russian Language School Certificate awarded by MESI. Preparation for the Test of Russian as a Foreign Language (TORFL) is also available upon request.

Our programme includes:

- Placement test
- 90 hours of intensive lessons: reading, writing, speaking, listening, phonetics and grammar
- Post-course testing and individual feedback
- Guidelines for further self-study: information about online Russian language courses and open educational resources available on the Internet
- Short course on Russian history and culture (in English)
- Cultural programme

Beginners will have an opportunity to:

- Learn the Russian alphabet and start writing in Russian
- Become acquainted with the basic Russian grammar
- Be familiar with the most useful phrases and words
- Be able to use Russian in everyday situations: in the street, in public transport, in stores and restaurants
- Develop listening comprehension to understand voice announcements in the subway, in a railway station etc.

Non-beginners will have an opportunity to:

- Revise and strengthen their knowledge of the basic Russian grammar
- Overcome language barrier
- Be able to read and analyze articles, short stories and news
- Be able to communicate in Russian on the Internet (forums, blogs and social networks)
- Make short speeches and reports in Russian

Accommodation and meals are arranged at the university campus. It is located in a cosy and quiet zone in the Western part of Moscow but provides an easy access to the city center.
