

CALL FOR APPLICATION

MEDICAL CONFERENCE FOR PHD STUDENTS AND EXPERTS OF CLINICAL SCIENCES 2021

The Doctoral Student Association of the University of Pécs (PTE DOK) proudly organizes its multidisciplinary scientific event, the Medical Conference for PhD Students and Experts of Clinical Sciences (MedPECS2021) for the fourth time.

You can now join us virtually at the „MedPECS2021” to learn and exchange knowledge in medical, health, and pharmaceutical sciences related topics. We kindly invite PhD, undergraduate students and young scientists to present their research findings in oral or e-poster sessions and to improve their academic speaking, debate and argumentative skills. The event aims to create a platform for establishing new and strengthening existing cooperations.

Call for Special Session

This year, the scientific program is redesigned to emphasise all fields related to the COVID-19 outbreak, including topics about management, treatment, prevention, complications, and its social and economic impacts. We encourage everyone to present their related research findings at our event.

Date of the conference:

15th of May 2021 (Saturday)

Online conference platform:

Microsoft Teams

Registration and abstract submission deadline:

9th of April 2021

The official language of the conference:

English

Conference webpage:

<http://phdpecs.hu/rendezveny/medpecs21/>

Participation in the online event is FREE, but registration on the webpage is required!

We hope to inspire many young scientists and look forward to discussing ideas, new research findings in this international forum.
