

Appendix D

Director's Code of Ethics Statement

The Director's Code of Ethics Statement identifies general standards of conduct, professional behavior and asserts our identity. Upholding the Director's Code of Ethics exemplifies the aspirational nature regarding commitment to established ethics, safe practices and oversight.

The Code of Ethics highlights the OKIK operations, values and standards while voluntarily adopts Healthcare Simulationist Code of Ethics, which emphasizes core values including integrity, transparency, mutual respect, professionalism, accountability and results orientation.

Additionally, the Director's Code of Ethics promotes professional branding development and strengthens an ethical culture and safe environment among staff, course instructors and students.

The Director's Code of Ethics is but a mechanism in support of self-regulation, reflective analysis, identifies peer expectations and excels in value regarding simulation healthcare education.

Adherence to the Director's Code of Ethics establishes an ethical culture among staff, course instructors and students. Full compliance encourages commitment to excellence, promotes confidentiality, and assures psychological safety in reference to healthcare simulation education aligned to the highest standards of integrity.

Szilard Rendeki MD PhD,

Director and Senior Course Lecturer,
Medical Skills Education and Innovation Centre
Medical School
University of Pécs

