

Quality policy statement

Our university and faculty community as a value

The University of Pécs Faculty of Medicine is an inclusive and diverse community with a long history of excellence in teaching, research and clinical care, medicine and health sciences.

Collaboration, service and engagement

We work together in service to the Faculty, the University, and the national and international communities, and as part of this we have developed a Strategic Development Agenda which details our goals and objectives, taking into account the expectations of our partners. Our commitment to quality is reinforced through the continuous improvement of our services and activities.

Diversity, respect and knowledge as a value

All faculty citizens and partners are accepted and respected for their individual dignity, skills, experience and potential to contribute to the development of our community and the achievement of our goals.

Integrity and accountability

We conduct our activities ethically and responsibly. We empower our partners to provide suggestions and feedback, just as we share our plans and results with them. We communicate clearly to our community and partners the values that guide our operations.

Lifelong learning and development

Our faculty promotes the development of educational excellence. Through continuous professional and personal development, we ensure that our educators pursue excellence. We embrace innovation, creative solutions and risk-taking. Our quality-driven approach is aligned with international medical education and European higher education criteria and helps us to progress in the European System of Excellence.

Balance and well-being as individual and community values

We value the well-being of all members of our community. As a medical school, our guiding principle is to preserve and protect health and prevent disease. We encourage and support a healthy, active lifestyle, recognising that this is the basis for effective work and harmonious living.

At the Faculty of General Medicine, our aim is to make it a pleasure and a pride to study and work with us.

Dr. Miklós Nyitrai, Dean
